

Storey of this city, assistant division superintendent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railway, who was killed in a wreck near Wickenburg this afternoon, had been connected with the railway during the 25 years that he lived here. Three others were reported rescued. The Harvard was on its way to Los Angeles.

Bluebeard's Mistress Testifies For Defense

VERSAILLES, Nov. 22.—Fernande Segret, a woman who lived with Henri Landru, the "bluebeard" of Gambais, in Versailles and also in Gambais, from late in 1917 until Landru was arrested in April, 1919, charged with eleven murders, was the principal witness for the defense today.

She testified that Landru was normal mentally; that he was loving and attentive to her. Her testimony regarding the normal condition of the prisoner was supported by three doctors.

"You accuse me of heinous crimes, such as only a mad man could commit, and the greatest specialists in France swear that I am normal and rational," Landru told the court, adding:

"It proves my innocence."

BLESSINGS OF OBSCURITY
"Doesn't it make you discontented to read about movie stars getting $2,000 a week?"

"Sometimes it does," said the citizen whose income is $3,000 a year, "but, on the other hand, it is a lot of satisfaction for me to know that I don't have to tell an inquisitive public what I eat, what I wear, how I amuse myself in my leisure moments and the exact state of my affections from day to day."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Court Refuses To Void North Dakota Recall Elections

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]
BISMARCK, N. D., Nov. 22.—The North Dakota supreme court today denied the application of five taxpayers for a writ prohibiting the state canvassing board from canvassing the vote cast at the recall election Oct. 28. Inauguration of R. A. Nesbitt, elected governor, attorney general and commissioner of agriculture and labor, respectively, will take place tomorrow.

The last full day of the administration of Gov. Lynn J. Frazier, Attorney General William Lemke and J. H. Hagan, commissioner of agriculture and labor, the recalled officials, was accompanied by excitement not unlike a legislative session.

After hearing argument on the taxpayers' petition, in the suit of taxpayers to break the present bond sale contract, the supreme court refused to deliberate on the recall nullification.

It was announced that the majority of the court had denied the application. Justice Robinson said later all five judges were against granting the injunction. He also asserted affidavits of alleged wholesale fraud in obtaining signatures to the recall petitions were not considered true.

The industrial commission, composed of the three recalled officials, who relinquish office tomorrow, today signed, it was announced, a contract with the state of Ohio, for the sale of all the remaining authorized state bond issues. This contract, it was stated, replaced the present contract, which has resulted in a law suit to the supreme court, and provides that all bonds not yet issued be sold at par.

IDENTIFICATION

A literary man found himself in the company of a youth with whom he experienced some difficulty in finding a suitable topic of conversation.

"Have you read anything good lately?" he asked.

"Yes, I've just been reading a splendid book."

"Indeed? What was it?"

"Well, I forgot the name."

"Who was the author?"—hopelessly.

"Oh, I don't know."

"Well, what was it about?"—desperately.

"Indeed, I've forgotten." Long pause—then, eagerly, "it had a red cover."—Scotsman.

STATE RESTS IN ARBUCKLE TRIAL

she was supposed to have been injured.

Arbuckle showed amusement in the drawing of a diagram by Heinrich showing his finger-prints. His attitude bordered on the jovial throughout the day. Mrs. Minta Durfee Arbuckle, his wife, wept at times.

Kate Brennan, a maid at the hotel, followed Glennon and testified that she dusted off the two doors introduced by the prosecution for finger-prints, evidence, some time after the finger-prints were supposed to have been made by Arbuckle and Miss Rappe. The defense endeavored to prove through her that in the dusting process she rubbed out the finger-prints.

Arbuckle gave her a tip of $2.50 for cleaning his room and offered her some whiskey which she refused, Mrs. Brennan testified.

Mrs. Lois Harding Lancashire, a guest at the hotel during the party, said she was near the rooms and heard and saw nothing.

Mrs. Martha Hamilton, a trained nurse, testified that she attended Miss Rappe at a hospital where she was taken from the hotel.

Adjournment was taken at the conclusion of her testimony. The court announced that court officers, jury and counsel would visit the hotel rooms tomorrow.

Find Mexican Guilty Of Attempt To Pilfer Consul Hardy Home

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]
NOGALES, Ariz., Nov. 22.—Manuel Lopez was found guilty by a jury in the Santa Cruz county superior court here this afternoon on a charge of having attempted to rob the home of Charles L. Hardy, former United States collector of the customs here. The jury recommended leniency in sentencing Lopez.

Lopez and two companions are alleged to have been discovered by Mr. Hardy in his home on Nov. 1. Hardy, who was near the home, attempted to capture the intruders but was unsuccessful. The trio later was captured by the local police. The other two men alleged to have been implicated in the affair are to be tried soon.

"Mr. S." exclaimed Jones, indignantly, "you are no gentleman."

"What makes you think so?"

"My wife called at your house yesterday, didn't she?"

"Yes, and was very welcome."

"Why, man, all I said was that she had a horse of a mouse color."—Scotsman.

ROMANCE IN PARACHUTE LEAPS

When Lieut. Glibber Shoemaker first started his daily parachute jumps at the Pageant of Progress at Chicago, he was not aware of a pretty telephone operator at the pier forgot all about her switchboard every time he made the thrilling leap.

That is, not until she told him one day she thought it must take a lot of nerve to do that stunt. He replied he planned to do something in the future requiring more nerve than it takes to jump out of an airplane.

They were married. The bride was Miss Vita Augustynowicz.

tations will be the use of legitimacy of new weapons of warfare. Thus far that subject has not been mentioned in the conference.

The sub-committee on Chinese administrative autonomy authorized today by the full body of delegates of the nine nations, sitting as a committee of the whole on the Far East, is expected to find its chief task in an attempt to rearrange the customs arrangements which have kept China from imposing a duty of more than 5 per cent on her imports.

In addition, there is expected to be an inquiry into the international agreements from which certain specified items of the republic's tax returns must be turned over immediately for payment of foreign obligations.

All of these restrictions, the Chinese declare, have resulted in such a curtailment of national revenues as to make economic progress impossible. The Chinese delegates have said to have been indications in today's discussions that this clause as one of the most important she wished to establish, and there had met with much sympathy among other delegations.

The sub-committee was authorized at the suggestion of Senator Underwood of the American delegation.

Progress on Pacific Question
Although the delegates have not taken up some of the most troublesome questions involved in the Far Eastern situation, the progress made thus far was described in official circles tonight as highly encouraging.

So rapidly and smoothly have the negotiations moved that some of those connected with the American delegation are predicting that the conference will go a long way toward clearing up the Far Eastern tangle.

The probable procedure with reference to Chinese and other Far Eastern and Pacific questions was forecast today in authoritative quarters. The Root resolution, adopted yesterday by the Far Eastern committee of the whole, together with any adopted in the conference, it was said, would be brought before a plenary session of the conference for final discussion and adoption.

Adoption of the Root resolution by the committee, American officials said, was a far step toward protection of China, even should it not be taken before a plenary session, as is planned.

Promissory Future Action
Publication of the Root resolution as an expression of policy by the powers, it was asserted, carried with it a promise of future action with respect to Chinese territorial and political sovereignty.

The subject of future procedure on other Chinese questions is to be developed further at another meeting of the Far Eastern committee of the whole tomorrow. It was learned that a suggestion for a general sub-committee of two experts representing each of the nine powers was rejected at the suggestion of Senator Lodge, who was said to have argued that Chinese questions were not matters for experts and that the representatives of the powers were responsible directly for any action taken.

His objections were said to have been supported by Mr. Bakouf and Premier Briand.

Questions relating to Shantung, Manchuria and foreign treaty and other concessions in China, it was said, probably soon would be reached by the committee. It was said that so far no hint as to the Chinese attitude regarding Shantung had been received by American officials, although intimations had come that the Japanese were disposed to insist on retention and protection of their rights and privileges in Manchuria.

Final Passage Of Tax Revision Bill Expected Tonight

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Final enactment of the tax revision bill and adjournment of congress sine die tomorrow was made certain today by the adoption of the unanimous consent agreement in the senate for a vote on the revenue measure by 5 p.m. tomorrow.

Immediately after passage the bill will be sent to the president.

The only important section to be put into force immediately is that relating to the income tax, the other changes going into effect Jan. 1. The present surtax rates will be continued for this year, reductions going into effect next year and being reflected in tax payments in 1923.

In laying the conference report before the senate body, Chairman Penrose of the senate managers, in a statement, described the bill as a "temporary makeshift."

"The bill," he said, "does not place the tax system on a stable or scientific basis. But it is better than the law which it will supersede because of the reduction of the tax burden and the technical or administrative improvements."

Debate was opened by Senator Simmons of North Carolina, who declared that when the conferees got through with the bill even some of the most prominent of the Republican majority could not "conceal their disgust" with the measure.

Attacking the majority senate manager, he stated they had made an "unjustifiable surrender" on the corporation income tax and had "given up in gloom" the 15 per cent rate in favor of the 12 1/2 per cent rate.

Seven Women And One Man Temporarily Seated On Burch Jury

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22.—Seven women and one man were passed temporarily today as jurors in the trial of Arthur C. Burch, indicted jointly with Mrs. Madeline Obenchain for the alleged murder of J. Belmont Kennedy. Another woman was under consideration as a prospective juror when court adjourned for the day and two other women and one man were in the box awaiting questioning.

Judge Sidney N. Reeve sustained the defense's challenge for cause of Mrs. Martha J. Clark, who stated she had a pre-conceived opinion about the case which would require evidence to dispel. The excluding of three women and a man who announced they had scruples against capital punishment constituted the remainder of the day's work with respect to the jury drawing.

LABELS EDITOR OF JOHN BULL

Joseph Port Newton in the Atlantic Monthly.

When it was announced that I had accepted the invitation to the London City Temple, I received a long cablegram from Mr. Bottomley, suggesting that I write for his paper, John Bull, and telling of his admiration for Dr. Parker.

Unfortunately, as I did not choose to be introduced to England through such a medium, I could not accept after my protest against the increase of brewery supplies—he wrote cruel things about me. It did not matter; I should have been much more unhappy if he had written in my praise.

Shoot Wire Across River To Restore Telephone Service

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 22.—Telephone and press communication with Portland and Points as far north as Montana, cut off yesterday by the overflowing of the Santiam river in Central Oregon, was restored today by shooting across the river a weight to which was attached a light wire.

A projectile gun picked up in the vicinity was used, according to the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company. The Southern Pacific railroad line and state highway were washed out as well as telephone lines but telephone men extended poles from each side of the river up to the main channel, a gap of about 400 feet. After 10 attempts the wire was landed successfully and an emergency cable pulled across.

Italy Claims Subs Are Necessary For Coast Line Defense

[Republican A. P. Leased Wire]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Submarines are necessary for the defense of Italy, it was stated today by an Italian delegate.

Italy's exposed coast line, he said, necessitated reliance to some extent on the submarine as a defensive weapon. It also was asserted her financial situation made it difficult to build expensive capital ships.

The delegation will not at this stage undertake to fix any figure for the tonnage of naval strength to be assigned to Italy by the conference.

Members hold that she must have a navy equal to that of any other Mediterranean power, not classing Great Britain as such.

CAMELBACK MOUNTAIN

AND A GLIMPSE OF THE UNCLAIMED DESERT

Like a sleeping camel of the great Sahara, Camelback lies about 10 miles northeast of Phoenix.

Indian myth speaks of it as the high altar of ceremonial sacrifice and the site of bloody tribal battles.

Camelback, with its charm of mystery and its age old traditions has in Sphinx-like silence slept through the centuries past, unchanged by the passing of the redskin or the coming of the white man.

Within sight of this great mountain in 1887 the first irrigation ditch to be constructed by white men in the Salt River Valley, was started by Jack Swilling. Nearby were the well defined ruins of an ancient Pueblo and there it was that Darrel Duppa, an English scholar and a member of Swilling's outfit, said, "Let us call it Phoenix, for upon these ruins shall rise a mighty city."

Through the years that follow Duppa's prophecy is fulfilled. In 1888 the Swilling ditch was completed and the first step toward reclaiming the great wastes of mesquite and greasewood had been taken.

Year after year improvements were made, more miles of ditches were added to the system, more acres were blessed with bounteous crops.

Today stands Phoenix, the city surrounded on all sides by great fields of cotton, alfalfa, grains and fruits, a mighty monument to the faith, the vision, and the unflinching confidence of these hardy pioneers, who, unafraid and unhesitatingly, labored and made possible our present prosperity.

The Bank of Phoenix is an institution that is symbolic of how well the pioneer builders, at this time, are a direct reflection of the staunch, prosperous community they founded.

Building, with courtesy, and service as a foundation, it is our aim and purpose to make this institution a bank of strength and friendliness serving many of the descendants of these sturdy pioneers.
